

Martin Schubert
<martin.schubert@e-technik
.fh-regensburg.de>
11-11-2004 17:08

To PCT-Consultation@epo.org
cc
bcc
Subject Call for contributions to European Patent Office

Dear Sirs:

From my point of view there are two major things to improve in the European patent process:

(1) No European Patent Fees for European Citizens

As an American citizen can make US patents without fees, a European citizen should have the same chance. However, making an all European Patent is unaffordable for a typical private European person.

(2) One European Language for Patent Description

An American Citizen can write his patent in one language, namely English. An all European patent should be accepted if written in one of the major European languages: German, English or French

Sincerely,

Prof. Dr. Martin Schubert